

SALARY

WHAT IS IT?

As a teacher you can work with children and adults! This could be with nursery children, primary or secondary school children, at colleges or even universities. You could even teach teachers! You don't have to be a Science teacher in a school to use Science in teaching! You could teach:

- ⇒ Sports and PE
- ⇒ At an agricultural college
- ⇒ At a university
- ⇒ In a museum
- ⇒ As a private tutor
- ⇒ In a hospital for sick children
- ⇒ Athletes or film stars

Primary and secondary school teacher starting salaries start at £24,373 (more in London) and can reach £40,490 (more if you become a school leader).

College lecturers earn between £24,000 and £37,000 per year

University lecturers can earn between £33,000 and £55,000

Private tutors can set their own rates!

For more information about careers in education, click here.

WHERE CAN I GET A JOB?

You can teach anywhere in the world! Daniel Radcliffe and the other child actors had teachers while on the set of Harry Potter. Locally you could teach at any Eastbourne school, college or the Universities of Brighton or Sussex.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED

Job	GCSEs (or equivalent)	A-levels (or equivalent)	Degree	Other
Primary School Teacher	Minimum 4 in English, Maths and Science	Minimum of 2	Primary teaching with QTS	PGCE if you don't do a teaching degree
Secondary School Science Teacher	Minimum 4 in English and Maths	As above	Any Science based degree	PGCE
College Lecturer	As above	As above	A Science based degree	FE teaching qualification
University Lecturer	As above	As above	Usually a teaching degree and PGCE	Usually you need a Masters degree