Careers in Science

COMPUTER SCIENTIST

and careers which use physics

SALARY

Depending on your role and level of qualification you could earn between £18,000 and upwards of £140,000 per year.

For more information on careers in computing and IT

click here

WHAT IS IT?

Computer Scientists can have many roles:

⇒   Computer games developer or tester—get paid to make or play your favourite games!

⇒   Information scientist—manage all the information for a company

⇒   Forensic computer analyst— investigate and help solve cyber-crime

⇒   Consumer scientist—investigate what people buy and why

⇒   Head of IT—run the IT department at a company

⇒   IT service engineer—install and service IT equipment

WHERE CAN I GET A JOB?

You could work anywhere in the world as long as there in an internet connection! You could even work from the comfort of your own home! There are many companies in Eastbourne who need IT support and development, or why not set up your own IT business?

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED

Job	GCSEs (or equivalent)	A-levels (or equivalent)	Degree	Other options
Computer games developer	5 GCSEs at grade 9-4 including English and maths	Computing, Digital Development, Games Development	Computer Games Development, Computer Science or Mathematics	Higher apprenticeship in software development. Work experience.
Forensic computer analyst	As above	As above	Forensic Computing and Security, Computer Science, Cyber Security	Higher apprenticeship in cyber security. Work experience.
Information Scientist	As above	As above	Information Management, Data Asset Management	On the job training
Head of IT	As above	As above	Computing, Information Systems, Project Management	Senior Leader postgraduate degree apprenticeship