Learning Overview for Music GCSE (10/11)

Full specification available at: <https://www.aqa.org.uk/subjects/music/gcse/music-8271>

Key topics	What most pupils will learn	How this learning might be extended	How this learning will be assessed
Performance	Students must be able to perform live music in one or both of the following ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• instrumental (including DJ)/vocal• production via technology. One performance is recorded as a soloist and one piece recorded as part of an ensemble lasting a combined minimum of four minutes.	Students are given regular performance homework, where they are expected to submit audio recordings detailing their continued progress. Students are expected to be musical performers. Showing commitment to performing where appropriate and in the best interests of the student.	Performance is internally marked by teachers and externally moderated by AQA, marked out of 72 and constitutes 30 % of the total marks for the qualification. Each of the performances is out of a maximum of 36. Students receive regular feedback throughout the course.

	Through regular performance lessons and homework, a suitable repertoire will be determined by the student and teacher. It need not reference an area of study and can be in any chosen style or genre. Students must be able to interpret relevant musical elements as appropriate using resources (e.g., microphones) and techniques (e.g., pizzicato) as appropriate to communicate musical ideas with accuracy and expression and interpretation, including phrasing and dynamics appropriate to the style and mood of the music. All performances are submitted with an appropriate score. Students are guided in how to create and submit their score.	Commitment to school concerts and other opportunities to perform regularly will always benefit the student throughout the course. Students will benefit from experiencing live music as often as possible – particularly if their chosen instrument is being showcased. Students will also benefit from listening to a wide range of music, particularly featuring their chosen instrument so they can select the best material for their own performance.	All performances are recorded.
Composition	Students must learn how to develop musical ideas, including extending and manipulating musical ideas, and compose music that is musically convincing through two compositions. One must be in response to an externally set brief (Composition 1) and the other a free composition (Composition 2).	Students are always encouraged to listen to as much music as possible, from their own preference to unfamiliar music.	Both compositions are assessed on the student's ability to demonstrate: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Creative and effective selection and use of musical elements

	Composition lessons teach students the technical skills required to be creative, plus the skills and techniques composers and songwriters exhibit. Compositions can be composed in any style or genre to best reflect the skills, strengths and interests of the individual students. Students must be able to compose using methods appropriate to the style/genre of their composition and may use a combination of vocal/instrumental and technology. This could include the use of score writing software, sequencing software, studio multi-tracking or traditional techniques including handwritten notation and working through improvisation	Students are encouraged to independently research compositional techniques that will improve their own coursework, particularly if the techniques are unique to their chosen style (for example watching a YouTube tutorial on how to create a 'trap beat'). Students should be using the facilities to compose outside their lessons. Often a task they want to do will take longer than the hour lesson, therefore students will often want to come and use the Macs at lunchtime / afterschool to continue their work.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Appropriate selection and use of musical elements (to the compositional intention)• Technical and expressive control in the use of musical elements. Regular feedback and targets are essential to keep the student motivated and on track with their ideas. Each composition will demonstrate selection and use of at least four types of musical element as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• at least two of rhythm, metre, texture, melody, structure, form• at least two of harmony, tonality, timbre, dynamics, phrasing, articulation
